Tony Evans, speaker, Pastor, writer, comments,

Our churches are full of people who have been following Christ for ten, fifteen, even twenty years, yet they cannot point to one other person they are bringing along in the faith. Prospective disciples are all around us: in our marriages, in our families, at church, in our neighborhoods, at work.

Finding a candidate for discipleship is not usually the problem. The problem is that too many of the saints are on the sidelines instead of in the game.

It's easy to sit in the stands and call the plays. It's another story to get out on the field and play the game. We have a lot of professional critics in our churches, but not enough disciple-makers. God has not called you to be a critic. He has called you to build His truth into somebody else's life.
